Due to the sudden cancellation of our Saturday workshop during Ars Electronica/STWST48x7 we will offer a repeat of that workshop, this time in a dinner format, in reference to the buffet we had during the festivals.

Referring to the Umberto Eco novel Island of the Day Before, this workshop will revisit the Information Islands of the Riverbank Buffet project that were presented last Friday. These include:

- The Project Concept
- Its 3 Conceptual Layers
  - The Artworks
  - The Drinks and Meals
- Their Individual Ingredients and Microbes
  - Fermentation Processes
    - Domestic Science
      - BioScience
      - DataScience
  - Future Projects & Opportunities

The dinner will consist of a mix of some of the ingredients from the Buffet event last Friday, but in new and different food formats. The menu will include local Danubian Fish and vegetarian options, many fermented and pickled sides and some fast-fermented beverages and an abundance of hot sauces and giveaways.

All participants will need to follow the 3Gs protocol to attend.

Spaces are limited to 12 participants.
